

Configuring Authentication and Accounting Parameters for Subscriber Access

---

You use an access profile to configure authentication and accounting support for the subscriber access management feature. The access profile enables you to specify the type of methods used for authentication and accounting. You can also configure how subscriber access management collects and uses accounting statistics.

- Related Topics
- Specifying the Authentication and Accounting Methods for Subscriber Access
  - Configuring How Accounting Statistics Are Collected for Subscriber Access

