

Planning Number of Instances of an Enterprise Service Portal

---

When you are planning an SRC network that uses enterprise service portals, consider how many instances of the enterprise service portal you need. For example, if your network has multiple points of presence (POPs), you may want to install an enterprise service portal in each POP.

